Who should consider investing?

Fund specific risks: The fund sits in the middle of the risk/reward spectrum and investors should be comfortable with fluctuations in shares on stock markets. The risk of short-term monetary loss is medium, due to moderate exposure to volatility in the stock markets. Default risk is where the issuers of fixed income instruments may not be able to meet interest or capital repayments. Property shares may be included in the portfolio which can carry the same risk as investing directly in real estate and is subject to economic and political conditions, interest rates and tax considerations. Investing in foreign securities may be subject to risks pertaining to overseas jurisdictions and markets, including (but not limited to) local liquidity, macroeconomic, political, tax, settlement risks and currency fluctuations. Changes in the relative values of different currencies may adversely affect the value of investments and any related income.

This fund is suitable for investors who:
• aim to build wealth with a balanced portfolio that diversifies the risk over the various asset classes
• are comfortable with market fluctuation risk
• willing to accept potential capital loss
• would prefer the fund manager to make the asset allocation decisions

What is a total expense ratio?

The Total Expense Ratio (TER) is the annualised percentage of the Fund’s average assets under management that has been used to pay the Fund’s actual expenses over the past three years. This percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A high TER ratio does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER ratio imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. Part of the Annual Management Fee is payable to the financial intermediary.

The sum of the TER and transaction costs is shown as the Total Investment Charge. Since Fund returns are quoted after the deduction of these expenses, the TER and transaction costs should not be deducted again from published returns.
