MARKET REVIEW

Asset class relative performances reversed the May numbers as listed property clawed back most of the previous month's losses, gaining 3.0% in June. Equity conversely, went from a positive month in May to losing 2.4% in June, while bonds remained steady at 1.1%, despite global inflation concerns. This has resulted in listed property being the strongest asset class for the quarter at 11.1% as it achieved its third straight positive quarter.

Despite the solid stock performance, operational frailties continued as office vacancies, as per SAPOA, spiked beyond 15% and retail took another blow as an adjusted level 4 lockdown was introduced by the President towards the end of the month. In the UK a retail setback was also apparent as the Delta variant delayed the much anticipated reopening of the economy, however Central and Eastern Europe was buoyed by the low levels of infection and steady reopening of the economy.

The differentiation in the underlying asset exposure is being seen as management teams disclose their recent operating performances. Growthpoint was open about the difficulties across their office portfolio and headwinds faced at the V&A Waterfront (a beneficiary of tourism), culminating in quite a somber outlook in their pre close statement. SA Corporate was slightly more upbeat (perhaps owing to the fact they have very little office exposure) as they managed to reduce vacancies in their residential portfolio, albeit at a reduced rental. Vukile stood out as the best result, with a steady operational performance both in South Africa and Spain as they appear to have weathered the initial retail storm better than most. It should also be noted that post month end small cap retail stock Safari also reported a very strong operating performance giving further evidence of the robust nature of the lower LSM retail sub-sector.

The Rand was once again one of the most volatile emerging market currencies over the last month as it pulled back c. 4% in June following a 6% rally against the USD in May. Macroeconomic data reported so far has generally been better than expected with retail sales and new vehicle sales recovering almost all of their Covid slump. The heightened lockdown imposed in the latter part of June likely means we will see pull-back in these indicators. SA trade data continues to deliver very impressive surpluses with the May data (R54.6bn surplus) being the highest on record, with the key driver being exports over imports. Any SA overview would be incomplete without mentioning President Zuma's conviction and sentencing to 15 months in prison, this is further evidence of President Ramaphosa's further consolidation of power and the increased expectations that the needed reforms will be implemented.

With the 3% increase in pricing, the sector has pushed slightly beyond fair value in the short term, but still holds value into the medium term as the impact of our implied relative de-rating smooths out over time. The benefits of the diverse nature of the sector are becoming more apparent as compared to a decade back as there are still areas of value and growth, however within the conventional local asset classes we believe there are still challenges ahead, some of which we do not believe the market fully appreciates as yet.
